

JON ADAMS Presents

Solve a Maze Well! Santa!

THIS ACTIVITY WELCOMES PEOPLE OF ALL RELIGIONS AND FAITHS TO PARTICIPATE IN THE HOLIDAY JOYS PROVIDED HERE. REGARDLESS OF WHETHER OR NOT THEY RECOGNIZE THE PROVEN EXISTENCE OF SANTA CLAUS, CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS, WHILE STILL WELCOME, MAY FIND THIS MORE DIFFICULT TO SOLVE THAN OTHER PEOPLE.

SOLVE THIS MAZE AND YOU COULD BE MORE IMPORTANT TO CHRISTMAS THAN JESUS!

Probably not though.*

Not even Rudolph can help me this time.

It looks like being overweight and working a stressful job has finally gotten to old Kris Kringle. If all the (good) children of the world are going to get their presents/emotional fulfillment, then Santa's going to need his heart medication!

BEGIN

POP A PILL INTO SANTA'S MOUTH AND FOLLOW THE PATH THROUGH HIS INTERNAL ORGANS TO HIS HEART

YOU'VE FINISHED?
GOOD JOB!

You've saved Santa and Christmas! But oh no: that was Santa's last pill and he doesn't have health insurance! His overseas elves can make some for him, but the North Pole won't allow generic prescriptions to be imported. You don't want Santa to die, do you? (Because it seems like you might unless you fill out this letter to him and email it to Santa at: santa@citycyclops.com)

Dear Santa Claus,

I'm sorry you've taken such poor care of yourself, but you'll be glad to hear that in recent Christmas miracle news, I've decided to:

- start my own health insurance company and enroll you if you qualify.
- adopt you and put you on my (catastrophic only) plan.
- donate my heart to you because it's only causing me pain.

Your Friend,
